Pastor's Christmas Message

Well, here we are again with another Covid Christmas. I don't know about you but I am finding that Covid fatigue is turning into Covid exhaustion. But nonetheless we can not let our guard down for quite a while it would seem. I have found myself reflecting on something particular as we prepared for Christmas. I imagined what it would have been like for Joseph and Mary at that time when Jesus was born. What were they feeling? What was going through their minds as they had to deal with Jesus being born in the middle of the Roman census when all the inns were completely booked up? I imagine that Joseph and Mary would have been absolutely frantic with worry. They would have been very anxious and seriously stressed by the fact that there was no where for Mary to give birth to Jesus. But there is something very meaningful with the circumstances of Jesus' birth. He came into this world in the midst of anxiety, stress and worry. He was born in a way that can only be described as messy. The actual situation of Jesus' birth was very different than what we see on Christmas cards or paintings. And yet in the midst of the turmoil of this world God comes into our lives and we see what will happen from this most humble of births. Jesus would rise above the messiness of life on this earth and bring into our lives the life of God Himself. Yes, our world is a mess and we also live very messy lives doing the best we can, which is often not even close to perfect. And yet God loves us and enters into our messy lives in a messy way. He becomes one with us and in the end will open for us a way into the very life of God. Yes, God loves us so much that he takes us into His love and life even in the midst of the turmoils of life. We live in a world with so much anxiety and stress right now and Christmas is perhaps a time in which we can be reminded that God Is With Us and that Jesus was and is still victorious over anything that happens on this Earth. We gather as much as we are able to and celebrate this time of Christ's humble birth in a stable knowing that Christ did this for us so that we can live our lives in the love and victory of God.

Many churches are finding it challenging as this pandemic continues month after month and St. Peter & Paul is no exception to this. I would like to thank all of our parishioners who have continued to support the parish through these times. I especially thank all our staff who are continuing to work hard to ensure the life of this parish continues. I am so impressed with the determination of our parishioners to see that programs and events happen as much as possible and still ensuring that everything we do is done as safely as possible. Let us continue to hope that this virus will weaken out very soon so that we can return to a more robust parish life in the future.

I pray that as we celebrate once again the birth of Christ and His coming into the world as one of us that we continue to be born into Christ, that our souls are uplifted in the knowledge that Jesus is with us through thick and thin and that He will not let go of us no matter what happens in our lives. I pray that we all may keep safe during these times and that our Lord give us continued strength, hope and peace into the new year.

Christ is Born! Let us glorify Him!

PASTORAL LETTER
FROM THE UKRAINIAN CATHOLIC BISHOPS OF CANADA
ON THE OCCASION OF THE NATIVITY OF OUR LORD 2021-2022

To the Reverend Clergy, Monastics, Seminarians and Laity of the Ukrainian Catholic Church in Canada:

Christ is Born! Let Us Glorify Him!

Dearly Beloved in Christ!

“The earth offers a cave to the Inaccessible.” Kontakion of the Nativity

The Kontakion of the Nativity of the Lord heralds a true paradox. It reminds us of the sharp contrasts we find in the human condition. The Indescribable, Eternal and Inaccessible God, is humbly born in a cave. The Incarnation of the Son of God comes about in a place barely fit for animals. Today, we find it hard to believe that any person could be born outside of a hospital or a home, and yet the Creator of the Universe embraces humanity in the midst of inhospitable indignity.

In this world we don't have to look far to find human indignity. Human tragedy is all around us. Physical, emotional and spiritual injustice is the content of many news stories. And in the midst of these stories often there is a ray of light in the darkness, a person who shines and restores our hope in human dignity. Worldwide, in Ukraine, or in our own homes in Canada, the Holy Spirit is waiting to break through to others with good news. Each of us would do well to ask God that question, “Lord, how do you want to use me in sharing this news?”

The good news is that despite our hearts being similar in some ways to the inhospitable cave, Jesus wants to dwell there. Our openness to this profound mystery requires quiet time for prayer far from distractions, away from the numerous demands that contemporary society places on our attention. In the stillness of our hearts God will speak. God will give each of us the grace to say “yes” together with the Holy Family. Jesus is born in the manger of a humble heart filled with love. He is born in every thought and action that honours the Heavenly Father and hearts that treat those created in His image with dignity. This is the good news we share on this Feast. And by praying together as families and participating in the Holy Mysteries, especially in the Eucharist, we are lifted up and confirmed as beloved children of God.

Therefore, let us intercede in prayer and perhaps take positive steps toward solutions to the many inhumane things we encounter in life. Let us learn from St. Joseph as Jesus did, developing a sense of obedience to His Heavenly Father, through the example of Joseph's obedience to God. Let us learn from Mary, the Mother of God, as Jesus did, developing a sense of profound love and compassion through his earthly experience of a mother's love. Let us allow the Christ in us to be a light of wisdom and compassion to others. And as our society today continues to struggle with the COVID pandemic, let us always be mindful of the wellbeing of others.

This Christmas, may our celebration of our Lord's Nativity bring us to an encounter with Him in all our relationships – with our family members, in our communities, in our workplaces, in our homes. May our hearts be that cave, where the Holy Family finds a home, where Jesus, Mary and Joseph are present. May the gift of Emmanuel—God is with us—bear fruit in us in love, joy and peace, in this Christmas season and throughout the New Year.

God is with us! Christ is Born!

Sincerely in Christ,
